USER ADVISORY

This Index is for use with the bound version of the Journals of the Senate and House, First Regular Session, First Extraordinary Session, Second Extraordinary Session and Veto Session, 99th General Assembly, State of Missouri.

The Journals are printed daily by the Senate and House. Corrections made in a daily journal subsequent to the printing of the Journal may be located by examining the "corrections" heading in this index.

The bound sets of Senate and House Journals constitute the official version of the Journals and take precedence over other versions which might be available electronically or otherwise.

Journal page numbers are given only in the numerical listing of SENATE BILLS INTRODUCED and HOUSE BILLS INTRODUCED. When using the TRULY AGREED TO and the CLASSIFIED INDEX, please refer to the numerical listing for journal page numbers.

Bill authors are not listed for substitute bills.

In the CLASSIFIED INDEX, bill captions (listed under SUBJECT) have been revised to take into account changes that occurred after introduction. Bills are classified in this portion of the index by the last version acted upon.

AUTHORITY FOR PUBLICATION

2.080. 1. Copies of the journals of the proceedings of each house of the general assembly shall be compiled under the superintendence and direction of the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house, in such number as may be determined to be necessary by the committee on legislative research, to be distributed as directed by the committee. After each session of the general assembly, the secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house shall examine and correct the proof sheets of the journals of their respective chambers and prepare a table of the errata, if any errors have been made, and shall prepare an index of the journals. The secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house shall develop and use a common indexing system for the journals.

2. Copies of the journals may be printed and bound into books, may be microphotographed, or may otherwise be copied so as to preserve the record of proceedings and to facilitate the use and storage of the journals.

2.091. The secretary of the senate and chief clerk of the house shall deliver, upon request, one copy of the journal of their respective chambers to the judge of any court of record, any member of either house of the general assembly, the head of any state department, bureau or state institution, the state university, the Missouri state historical society and any public library in the state, two copies of each to the law library association of St. Louis, and three copies of each to the Library of Congress at Washington, D.C. The remaining copies shall be preserved, subject to the orders of the general assembly.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-NINTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 2017

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, the gavel has announced the beginning of a new session, bringing new and familiar members to this time of gathering. We come together knowing that we need to be centered in You and opened to Your prompting so our service is in keeping with Your will for us. We are thankful for this opportunity to serve and pray You will help us be faithful in our witnessing. And we pray for Lieutenant Governor-Elect Parson and his recent heart surgery, asking You for his complete healing and health restored for his service to this state and here in the Senate. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Missouri National Guard presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Senator Wallingford.

The “Star-Spangled Banner” was performed by Lauren Hieger.

Senator Kehoe requested unanimous consent of the Senate to allow members of the Missouri State Highway Patrol and the Missouri Supreme Court Marshal to enter the Chamber with side arms, which request was granted.

The President of the Senate stated that the Rules of the Senate would be the Missouri Senate Rules of the 2nd Regular Session of the Ninety-eighth General Assembly until temporary or permanent rules are adopted.

Senator Kehoe announced that photographers from Gasconade County Republican, KSDK-TV, Jefferson City News Tribune, Columbia Missourian, The Missouri Times, KRCG-TV and St. Louis Post Dispatch the Senate and family members had been given permission to take flash pictures and to video in the Senate Chamber and gallery.

Senator Kehoe submitted the following appointments of officers for the temporary organization, which were read:

President Pro Tem	Ron Richard
Secretary of Senate	Adriane D. Crouse
Sergeant-at-Arms	Bill Smith

Senator Kehoe requested unanimous consent of the Senate that the above named officers stand as temporary officers until permanent officers are elected, which request was granted.

Opening Address

Senator Ron Richard, President Pro Tem

First Regular Session, 99th General Assembly

January 4, 2017

Good afternoon and THANK YOU for placing your trust in me to serve as your President Pro- Tem.

It is a high honor to do so, and, of course, it's an honor for all of us to serve the people in the Missouri Senate.

Many of you have family and friends here with you today. We welcome them to the Chamber.

Gov-elect Eric Greitens

Lt. Gov Peter Kinder

Lt. Gov-elect Mike Parson

Judge Patricia Breckenridge

Judge Dan Scott

Patty Richard

Senators and Guests

I know it's a tradition that the new President Pro-Tem gives a big speech on the first day and sets the agenda. But I'm not big on long, windy speeches.

So rather than stand here and set the agenda for 2017, I'm going to say a few words that I hope will set the TONE for 2017.....and beyond. In other words, how should we go about conducting the business of the Missouri Senate?

What we do here matters, and how we do it matters.

Take a look around. Not just at each other, but take a look at this magnificent chamber, which is at the heart of the most beautiful capitol building in America.

Why is it that Missourians- who are not unnecessarily extravagant people – decided more than a hundred years ago to build such a wonderful capitol? And not just the building itself, but all the wonderful artwork throughout the Capitol, including this very chamber?

These great Capitol decorations are not placed simply for the purpose of expounding beauty and art, but to inspire in succeeding generations patriotism. Without a knowledge of history there can be no patriotism. Without a reverence for our pioneer forbears there can be no respect for the government they sacrificed to build.

We could do our business sitting around a bunch of card tables. Instead, we are here in this grand chamber.

I think Missourians then – and Missourians now - want us to feel the weight of what we do here. They want us to feel the weight of history; to appreciate what has come before us; and to apply it to what we do in this chamber.

Look behind me and you'll see Daniel Boone at the Judgment tree. Daniel Boone loved Missouri. He built his own coffin out of the wood of a wild cherry tree he found here. He planned ahead.

On another panel you will see President Jefferson greeting Lewis and Clark. The vast amount of information Lewis and Clark gathered on their expedition was tremendously important. Lewis and Clark knew the importance of details.

Also behind me, a depiction of Senator Thomas Benton's historic speech in St. Louis in 1849. Benton wanted to build a railroad from St. Louis to the Pacific. Folks back east ridiculed the idea; nothing out west but savages, they said. In his speech, Benton said, quote – “Let us rise to the grandeur of the occasion.” – end quote. He did; and so should we.

I also draw your attention to the panel showing Frank Blair giving a speech in Louisiana, Missouri in 1866. He fought for the Union and was a fearless general. But in 1865, when the state Constitution required a loyalty oath in order to vote, or practice medicine, or preach, Blair denounced it. He took the stump in Louisiana, Missouri as a Democrat and gave the first Democratic speech in Missouri after the Civil War. He was warned that if he showed up, he would be shot.

But he showed up, anyway. Blair walked up to the platform, laid two revolvers on the desk and said, -- quote – “I understand I am to be shot if I speak here today. Perhaps we would better attend to this ceremony now.”

Nobody stepped forward. Nobody shot him. Frank Blair was a man of courage.

This is the history that should weigh upon us as we go about our business in this chamber.

Plan ahead. Pay attention to the details. Have the courage to say what needs to be said. And, of course, rise to the grandeur of the occasion.

So let us pledge to each other that in 2017 and beyond, we will conduct the business of the Senate in a way that rises to the grandeur of the great state of Missouri.

But, of course, we're human, and we make mistakes, especially in the passion of the moment. I'm sure even the greatest figures in our history fell short of what they expected of themselves from time to time. But when the moment demanded it, they rose to meet the occasion, and that's what history remembers.

How will history remember us?

I'm hoping we are remembered for respecting the institution of the Senate and each other; for restoring civility to the chamber; and that we were able to be passionate about our convictions without being combative with one another.

We have a lot to do, so I'll close now with one last bit of advice from a man I greatly admire - Winston Churchill. He might have been thinking about the Missouri Senate when he said:

Quote – “Courage is what it takes to stand up and speak; courage is also what it takes to sit down and listen.”

Which I intend to do.

God bless you all, and God bless the great State of Missouri.

President Kinder assumed the Chair.

Senator Richard nominated Adriane D. Crouse for Secretary of Senate.

No further nominations being made, Ms. Crouse was elected by the following vote:

[17.] 21. Committee on [Veterans' Affairs and Health] Veterans and Military Affairs, [10] 7 members.

[18.] 22. Committee on Ways and Means, 7 members.

All committees shall have leave to report at any time. The chairman of any standing committee may appoint one or more subcommittees, with the approval of the committee, to hold hearings on bills referred to the committee and shall report its findings to the standing committee.

Rule 28. The duties of the standing committees of the senate are as follows:

1. The Committee on Administration shall superintend and have sole and complete control of all financial obligations and business affairs of the senate, the assignment of offices and seats, and the supervision of certain designated employees. The committee shall be authorized to employ an administrator, who shall be provided with office space as designated by the committee. The administrator or the secretary of the senate may be authorized to act for the committee, but only in the manner and to the extent as may have previously been authorized by the committee with such authorization entered in the minutes of the committee. No voucher calling for payment from the contingent fund of the senate shall be drawn, nor shall any valid obligation exist against the contingent fund until the same shall have been approved by the committee or its administrator and be recorded in the minutes thereof. All vouchers must be signed by the chairman of the committee or the administrator, if so authorized. The committee or its administrator shall provide for the receiving and receipt of all supplies, equipment and furnishings purchased for the account of the senate, and the distribution thereof. The administrator shall keep a detailed running account of all transactions and shall open his records for inspection to any senator who so requests. All employees other than elected officials of the senate and employees of the individual senators, shall be selected by the committee, who shall control their tenure, set their compensation, assign their duties and exercise complete supervision over them. When necessary, the committee shall assign office space and seats in the senate chamber.

2. The Committee on Agriculture, Food Production and Outdoor Resources shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to animals, animal disease, pest control, agriculture, food production, the state park system, conservation of the state's natural resources, soil and water, wildlife and game refuges.

3. The Committee on Appropriations shall consider and report upon all bills and matters referred to it pertaining to general appropriations and disbursement of public money.

4. The Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection, Energy and the Environment shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the development of state commerce, the commercial sector, consumer protection, telecommunications and cable issues, the development and conservation of energy resources and the disposal of solid, hazardous and nuclear wastes and other matters relating to environmental preservation.

5. The Committee on Economic Development shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the promotion of economic development, creation and retention of jobs, tourism and the promotion of tourism as a state industry, and community and business development.

6. The Committee on Education shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to education in the state, including the public schools, libraries, programs and institutions of higher learning.

[6. The Committee on Financial and Governmental Organizations and Elections shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to banks and banking, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions in the state. The committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the reorganization, establishment, consolidation or abolition of departments, boards, bureaus and commissions of state government, the internal operation of any state agency and the effect of federal legislation upon any state agency. The committee shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to election law.]

7. The Committee on Fiscal Oversight shall consider and report upon all bills, except regular appropriation bills, that require new appropriations or expenditures of appropriated funds in excess of $100,000, or that reduce such funds by that amount during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement the provisions of the Act. Any such senate bill, after having been approved by the regular standing committee to which it has been assigned and after the same has been perfected and ordered printed by the senate, shall thereafter be referred to the Committee on Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its submission to the senate for final passage thereof by the senate. Any such house bill after having been reported by the regular standing committee to which it was assigned shall be referred to the Committee on Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its being considered by the senate for third reading and final passage. Any senate or house bill, amended so as to increase expenditures or reduce revenue in excess of $100,000 during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement its provisions shall upon timely motion be referred or re-referred to the Committee on Fiscal Oversight. The author or first named sponsor of a bill referred to the Committee on Fiscal Oversight shall be entitled to a hearing on his/her bill but such committee hearing shall be limited to the reception of testimony presented by the author or first-named sponsor in person and none other. The Committee on Fiscal Oversight may recommend the passage of a bill subject to the adoption of an amendment specifying a certain effective date proposed by the committee, and if such an amendment is not adopted, the bill shall again be referred to the Committee on Fiscal Oversight.

8. The Committee on General Laws [and Pensions] shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to general topics [and retirement and pensions and pension plans].

[8. The Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight shall review, study, and investigate all matters referred to it relating to the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of all state laws and programs, the organization and operation of state agencies and other entities having responsibility for the administration and execution of state laws and programs, and any conditions or circumstances that may indicate the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation to improve the efficiency of any state law or program. Any findings of the committee may be reported to the senate and the Committee on Appropriations. The committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to improving governmental efficiency and management. The Committee on

Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight shall also consider and report upon all bills, except regular appropriation bills, that require new appropriations or expenditures of appropriated funds in excess of $100,000, or that reduce such funds by that amount during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement the provisions of the Act. Any such senate bill, after having been approved by the regular standing committee to which it has been assigned and after the same has been perfected and ordered printed by the senate, shall thereafter be referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its submission to the senate for final passage thereof by the senate. Any such house bill after having been reported by the regular standing committee to which it was assigned shall be referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its being considered by the senate for third reading and final passage. Any senate or house bill, amended so as to increase expenditures or reduce revenue in excess of $100,000 during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement its provisions shall upon timely motion be referred or re-referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight. The author or first-named sponsor of a bill referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight shall be entitled to a hearing on his/her bill but such committee hearing shall be limited to the reception of testimony presented by the author or first-named sponsor in person and none other. The Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight may recommend the passage of a bill subject to the adoption of an amendment specifying a certain effective date proposed by the committee, and if such an amendment is not adopted, the bill shall again be referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight.]

9. The Committee on Government Reform shall review, study, and investigate all matters referred to it relating to the application, administration, execution, and effectiveness of all state laws and programs, the organization and operation of state agencies and other entities having responsibility for the administration and execution of state laws and programs, and any conditions or circumstances that may indicate the necessity or desirability of enacting new or additional legislation to improve the efficiency of any state law or program. Any findings of the committee may be reported to the senate and the Committee on Appropriations. The committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to improving governmental efficiency and management. The committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to improving governmental efficiency and management.

10. The Committee on Gubernatorial Appointments shall consider and report upon gubernatorial appointments referred to it.

[10. The Committee on Jobs, Economic Development and Local Government shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the promotion of economic development, the creation and retention of jobs, tourism and the promotion of tourism as a state industry, community and business development, county government, township organizations and political subdivisions.]

11. The Committee on Health and Pensions shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to health, MO HealthNet, alternative health care delivery system proposals, public health, disease control, hospital operations, mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse and addiction. The committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it concerning to retirement and pensions and pension plans.

12. The Committee on Insurance and Banking shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the ownership and operation of insurance and banking; and life, accident, indemnity and other forms of insurance. The committee shall also take into consideration and report on bills and matters referred to it relating to banks and banking, savings and loan associations, and other financial institutions in the state.

13. The Committee on the Judiciary and Civil and Criminal Jurisprudence shall consider and report upon bills and matters relating to the judicial department of the state including the practice of the courts of this state, civil procedure and criminal laws, criminal costs and all related matters. The Committee shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to probation or parole of persons sentenced under the criminal laws of the state.

14. The Committee on Local Government and Elections shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the county government, township organizations, and political subdivisions. [12.] 16. The Committee on Progress and Development shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it concerning the changing or maintenance of issues relating to human welfare.

[13.] 17. The Committee on Rules, Joint Rules, Resolutions and Ethics shall consider and report on rules for the government of the senate and joint rules when requested by the senate, shall consider, examine and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to ethics and the conduct of public officials and employees, shall recommend to the Senate the rules by which investigations and disciplinary proceedings will be conducted, and shall examine and report upon all resolutions and other matters which may be appropriately referred to it. The committee shall see that bills and amendments are properly perfected and printed. The committee shall examine all Truly Agreed To and Finally Passed bills carefully, and report that the printed copies furnished the senators are correct. Upon the written request of the sponsor or floor handler of a bill, the committee may recommend that any such bill on the calendars for perfection or house bills on third reading be called up or considered out of order in which the bill appears on that calendar. A recommendation to consider bills out of order shall require approval by a majority of the committee with the concurrence of two-thirds of the senate members. No floor debate shall be allowed on the motion to adopt the committee report. The Committee shall examine bills placed on the Consent Calendar and may, by majority vote, remove any bill from the consent calendar within the time period prescribed by Rule 45, that it determines is too controversial to be treated as a consent bill.

[14.] 18. The Committee on Seniors, Families and Children shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it concerning the preservation of the quality of life for senior citizens, nursing home and boarding home operations, alternative care programs for the elderly, and family and children's issues. It shall also consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it concerning income maintenance, social services, and child support enforcement.

[15.] 19. The Committee on Small Business[, Insurance] and Industry shall consider and report upon bills and matters referred to it relating to the ownership and operation of small businesses[; and life, accident, indemnity and other forms of insurance]. The committee shall also take into consideration and

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SECOND DAY—THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Kraus in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, it has been a short but important week for us and we are grateful to be here. We ask that You watch “our going out and coming in” keeping us mindful of our task of driving being fully responsible to this privilege and for the safety of all on our highways, bringing us safely home. We ask that You bless our families and friends and bless our time there that it is fruitful and loving. And we be found in Your presence this weekend. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

Senator Kehoe requested unanimous consent of the Senate to correct the Senate Journal for Wednesday, January 4, 2017, Page 49, Line 9, by adding after said line the following:

Senator Curls offered Senate Resolution No. 3, regarding Doris Nadine Dial, Kansas City, which was adopted.

Which request was granted.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved as corrected.

Senator Kehoe announced photographers from KRCG-TV were given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Emery offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

Whereas, under Article IV, Section 3, of the United States Constitution, “The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States”; and

Whereas, the Constitutional Convention intended this provision of the Constitution to maintain the status quo that had been established to transfer federal territorial lands only to create new states with the same rights of sovereignty, freedom, and independence as the original states; and

Whereas, under these express terms of trust, over time the states claiming federal territorial land ceded their western land to the confederated Union to allow the confederated government to dispose of the lands only to create new states and apply the net proceeds of any sales of the lands only to pay down the public debt; and

Whereas, the United States Constitution contains no expression of intent to authorize the federal government to indefinitely exercise control over western public lands beyond the duty to manage the lands pending the disposal of the lands to create new states, and therefore the lands should be returned to the western states; and

Whereas, in order to promote legitimate federal interests, the western states should upon transfer of the public lands directly to the state where the public land is located agree to affirmatively cede lands for the national park system, the national wilderness preservation system, and lands reserved for federal military use, military parks, and military reservations to the federal government under Article I, Section 8, Clause 17, of the United States Constitution, on condition that the lands permanently remain national park lands, and that they not be sold, transferred, left in substantial disrepair, or conveyed to any party other than to the state where the land is located; and

Whereas, limiting the ability of western states to access and utilize the public lands’ natural resources within their borders is having a negative impact upon the economy of the western states and therefore the economy of the entire United States:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, in order to provide a fair, just, and equitable remedy for the federal government’s past and continuing breaches of its solemn promises to the western states:

(1) Calls upon the federal government to transfer title to all federal public lands within the western states to the state where the land is located;

(2) Urges the United States Congress to engage in good faith communication, cooperation, and consultation with the western states to coordinate the transfer of the public lands, and supports the western states in these efforts;

(3) Calls upon the western states to agree, upon transfer of the public lands, to affirmatively cede to the federal government all lands currently designated as part of the National Park System under 16 U.S.C. Section 1a-1, the National Wilderness Preservation System under 16 U.S.C. Section 1131, or for military use, military parks, or military reservations;

(4) Urges that if any public land in the western states be sold to private owners, 95% of the net proceeds be paid to the Bureau of the Public Debt to pay down the federal debt; and

(5) Calls upon all other states of the United States to pass a similar resolution in support of the transfer of the federal public lands to the western states; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Emery offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

Whereas, the growth and abuse of federal regulatory authority threaten our constitutional liberties, including those guaranteed by the Bill of Rights in the First, Second, Fourth, and Fifth Amendments to our Constitution; and

Whereas, federal regulators must be more accountable to elected representatives of the people, and not immune from such accountability; and

Whereas, the United States House of Representatives has passed with bipartisan support the Regulations from the Executive in Need of Scrutiny (REINS) Act to require that Congress approve major new federal regulations before they can take effect; and

Whereas, even if enacted, a law may be repealed or waived by a future Congress and President:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge that the United States Congress vote to propose the Regulation Freedom Amendment to the United States Constitution as follows:

“Whenever one quarter of the members of the United States House of Representatives or the United States Senate transmits to the President their written declaration of opposition to a proposed federal regulation, it shall require a majority vote of the House of Representatives and the Senate to adopt that regulation.”; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President and Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Kehoe offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Relating to an application to Congress for the calling of an Article V convention of states to propose certain amendments to the United States Constitution which place limits on the federal government.

Whereas, the Founders of our Constitution empowered state legislators to be guardians of liberty against future abuses of power by the federal government; and

Whereas, the federal government has created a crushing national debt through improper and imprudent spending; and

Whereas, the federal government has invaded the legitimate roles of the states through the manipulative process of federal mandates, most of which are unfunded to a great extent; and

Whereas, the federal government has ceased to live under a proper interpretation of the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, it is the solemn duty of the states to protect the liberty of our people - particularly for the generations to come - to propose amendments to the United States Constitution through a convention of states under Article V to place clear restraints on these and related abuses of power:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby apply to Congress, under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution, for the calling of a convention of the states limited to proposing amendments to the United States Constitution that impose fiscal restraints on the federal government, limit the power and jurisdiction of the federal government, and limit the terms of office for its officials and members of Congress; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly adopts this application with the following understandings (as the term “understandings” is used within the context of “reservations, understandings, and declarations”):

(1) An application to Congress for an Article V convention confers no power on Congress other than to perform a ministerial function to “call” for a convention;

(2) This ministerial duty shall be performed by Congress only when Article V applications for substantially the same purpose are received from two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states;

(3) The power of Congress to “call” a convention solely consists of the authority to name a reasonable time and place for the initial meeting of the convention;

(4) Congress possesses no power whatsoever to name delegates to the convention, as this power remains exclusively within the authority of the legislatures of the several states;

(5) Congress possesses no power to set the number of delegates to be sent by any states;

(6) Congress possesses no power whatsoever to determine any rules for such convention;

(7) By definition, a Convention of States means that states vote on the basis of one state, one vote;

(8) A Convention of States convened pursuant to this application is limited to consideration of topics specified herein and no other;

(9) The General Assembly of Missouri may recall its delegates at any time for breach of their duties or violations of their instructions;

(10) Pursuant to the text of Article V, Congress may determine whether proposed amendments shall be ratified by the legislatures of the several states or by special state ratification conventions. The General Assembly of Missouri recommends that Congress specify its choice on ratification methodology contemporaneously with the call for the convention;

(11) Congress possesses no power whatsoever with regard to the Article V convention beyond the two powers acknowledged herein;

(12) Missouri places express reliance on prior legal and judicial determinations that Congress possesses no power under Article I relative to the Article V process, and that Congress must act only as expressly specified in Article V; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this application shall expire five (5) years after the passage of this resolution; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President and Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation, and the presiding officers of each of the legislative houses in the several states requesting their cooperation.

Read 1st time.

Senator Richard moved that SCR 1 be taken up for adoption, which motion prevailed.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRD DAY—MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Schaaf in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Behold, You have instructed many, and You have strengthened the weak hands.” (Job 4:3)

You have given us work to do, O God, at home and here for which we are most grateful. We are thankful to begin this day together in prayer, for we celebrate this day filled with joy, honor, responsibilities and strengthening relationships. Let us embrace this time asking that You will sustain our efforts to do what is right and needful. And we ask that You continue to accomplish the creative masterwork You have begun in our souls. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal for Thursday, January 5, 2016, was read and approved.

President Pro Tem Richard referred the gubernatorial appointments and addendums to the Committee on Gubernatorial Appointments.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

President Pro Tem Ricahrd appointed the following committee, pursuant to SCR 1: Senators Richard, Schaaf, Munzlinger, Wasson, Dixon, Kraus, Brown, Kehoe, Sater, Emery, Cunningham, Silvey, Wallingford, Romine, Hegeman, Onder, Walsh and Curls.

President Pro Tem Richard assumed the Chair.

On motion of Senator Kehoe, the Senate recessed until 11:00 a.m.

RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the Senate was called to order by President Pro Tem Richard.

Senator Kehoe moved that the Senate recess until 1:15 p.m. and the Senators repair to the South steps of the Capitol where they will meet the House of Representatives in Joint Session to witness the Inauguration of the newly elected Governor, Eric Greitens, and receive his message, which motion prevailed.

JOINT SESSION

The Senate and the House of Representatives met in Joint Assembly on the steps of the Capitol where President Pro Tem Richard called the Joint Assembly to order.

Governor-elect Eric Greitens and Sheena Greitens were escorted to their places on the Inaugural Platform by the Legislative Inaugural Committees of the 99th General Assembly.

Welcome was extended by the Honorable Ron Richard, President Pro Tem of the Missouri Senate.

The Colors were presented by the Missouri National Guard.

Thomas Jefferson Division, U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps., lead the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Charles Glenn sang the National Anthem.

The Invocation was offered by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Cathedral of Saint Joseph.

Judge Patricia Breckenridge, Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Attorney General-elect Joshua David Hawley.

Judge Patricia Breckenridge, Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to State Treasurer-elect Eric Stephen Schmitt.

Judge Patricia Breckenridge, Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Secretary of State-elect John Robert Ashcroft.

Judge Mary R. Russell of the Missouri Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Lieutenant Governor-elect Michael L. Parson.

The oath of office was administered to Governor-elect Eric Robert Greitens by Judge Patricia Breckenridge, Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court. Immediately after administration of the oath, military honors were rendered to Governor Greitens with the firing of a nineteen gun salute by the BTRY D, (Truman's Own) 1st Battalion, 129th Field Artillery Regiment Missouri Army National Guard, Independence.

Governor Greitens delivered his Inaugural Address:

Governor Eric Greitens Inaugural Address

January 9th, 2017

Thank you Justice Breckenridge.

And thank you President Pro Tem Richard and Speaker Richardson, and my fellow citizens.

Today, we gather to take part in our republic's most revered ritual: the peaceful transfer of power.

Governor Nixon, you—and your team—have been gracious during this transition, and in doing so, have honored our system of government and upheld its finest traditions. We thank you.

I come before you today conscious of the fact that so many have given so much to this state—none more so than the families of our fallen. Those who have fallen fighting our wars, enforcing our laws, fighting our fires.

I know these men and women; I have served with them. I know the pride of carrying our nation's flag abroad—and I have felt the grief of burying too many friends beneath that flag at home.

Their families sit with us today as a testament, not to loss—though their loss has been great—but to love, the tremendous love that so many have for our country, for our state, for our fellow citizens.

We hope that you feel our state's gratitude. Your loved ones gave their lives—and in their sacrifice, they made possible the democratic renewal we solemnly mark today.

We have inherited their legacy. We have also inherited an immense responsibility: to make the lives we live worthy of the lives we have lost. The people have spoken; a new direction has been decided.

For decades, Missourians have talked about change. Now it's time to fight for that change.

No one imagines that all of these battles will be won overnight—or over four years, or even eight. But we begin today.

Our state's world famous motto, "Show me," reminds us that Missourians don't much value big talk.

Our state's great history reminds us that Missourians have always understood that big achievements demand hard work.

"Show me" doesn't mean "Give me." It means "prove it can be done, and we will do it."

It was from Missouri that the West was won—and here was laid the first mile of the interstates that joined America in ever closer union.

In Missouri, we built the steamships that plied the Mississippi.

It was people of Missouri who believed that a human being could fly across the Atlantic Ocean alone.

And it was Missourians who built the capsule in which an American first orbited the earth.

That is who we were. It remains who we are.

This state in the heart of America has proven that the worst in our history can be overcome by the best in our people.

It was here that a slave named Dred Scott was told by the United States Supreme Court that a black man had no rights that a white man need respect—and it was a son of Missouri, a poet named Langston Hughes, who delivered the best answer to Dred Scott's unjust judges, when he said: "I, too, am America."

In that same spirit, we are all Missouri.

This does not mean we will agree on everything. In fact, we should not agree on everything.

Proverbs reminds us, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

The Lord put each of us here for a purpose. Sometimes the purpose of our opponents is to be our teachers.

There are big fights ahead for big things, and our new administration won't back down because of political pressure or political correctness.

Yet even as we fight for our convictions, we resolve that the greatest conviction, is to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Our ears will be open to reason, and our eyes alert to new facts.

We will go to work with humble hearts, and we will extend our hand in friendship to all those who will take it, but...

To those who would commit violence against a fellow citizen...

To those who would abuse a child...

To those who would assault a member of law enforcement...

To those who would steal from the needy...

I assure them this: they will feel the might, strength, and resolution of the firm fist of justice.

As Governor, I will always remember why you sent me here and what you expect from me. I will be loyal to your needs and priorities—not to those who posture or pay for influence.

This is the people's house. And to those who would trouble this house for their own selfish and sinful gain, hear me now: I answer to the people. I come as an outsider, to do the people's work.

And I know that the people do not expect miracles, but they do expect results—and we will deliver.

Yet no matter how well we do in government, there is a limit to what government can do well.

One of the worst lies of our present politics is the false promise that government can fix any problem and find every answer.

That never has been—and never will be—part of America's promise to its people.

But together, our people can fulfill America's oldest and best promises.

An administration can work on schools and invest in education. But I know—not only as your Governor, but as a father—that a child learns more than her letters when she falls fast asleep to the soft sounds of a parent reading to her.

An administration can do its part to empower business leaders to do good and to dare greatly — but the doing and daring is up to you.

An administration can render a check. But no amount of money given by a government can ever provide the meaning, strength, and dignity that comes from a good-paying job.

An administration can commit resources to serve those in need. But bureaucracy is the wrong place to look if you're seeking compassion. Caring comes from individual people, inspired by the ancient ideal laid down in Isaiah: "If you tend to the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed, then your light will rise in the darkness, and your night will become like the noonday."

An administration can invest in police and law enforcement. But the most important anti-crime program ever known is a dad playing ball with his son—and setting his boy an example of how a strong man cherishes women, protects the young, and honors the old.

Everywhere Sheena and I visit in this great state, we ask people to pray for us. I can feel the power of those prayers around me today.

I asked you to fight alongside me. You have—I know you will.

And now, gratefully accepting the responsibility that you have entrusted to me, let's get to work.

God bless the people of Missouri. God bless you all.

The 135th Army Band, Missouri Army National Guard, Springfield, performed "America the Beautiful".

The Benediction was pronounced by Rabbi James M. Bennett.

The Colors were retired by the Missouri National Guard.

The audience remained standing and Governor Greitens and Mrs. Greitens were escorted from the platform by the Legislative Inaugural Committee.

The Joint Session of the 99th General Assembly was adjourned by President Pro Tem Richard. The Senators returned to the Chamber, where they were called to order by President Parson.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FOURTH DAY—TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Dixon in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Who is wise and understanding among you? Show by your good life that your works are done with gentleness born of wisdom.” (James 3:13)

Almighty God, bless each of us this day. May we discover in each, in their encouraging words and helping hands that they are here to be of help to us. And although we may differ on some issues may we come to know that they have only our good in mind and are truly willing to share their knowledge and wisdom to assist us. Learning this may there be peace and righteousness sown in us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

Senator Kehoe announced photographers from KQTV were given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 22, regarding Joe Ruscha, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 23, regarding Duane and Betty Baum, Stone County, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 24, regarding Jim and Joan Stauber, Noel, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 25, regarding Paula Brodie, Goodman, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 26, regarding the death of Glenn V. Thomas, Blue Eye, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 27, regarding Jessica Spencer, which was adopted.

Senator Romine offered the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 28

Whereas, Mr. Scott Pruitt is an ideal nominee to lead the Environmental Protection Agency because as a state attorney general he has witnessed the real world consequences of the agency's unconstitutional overreach, and he has been a leader in working to restore the Environmental Protection Agency to its original, lawful mission; and

Whereas, Mr. Pruitt has earned bipartisan respect and recognition during his tenure as Oklahoma Attorney General by demonstrating an expertise in constitutional law and the federal regulatory system, in addition to his willingness to take on tough fights on behalf of Oklahoma; and

Whereas, like Mr. Donald J. Trump, Mr. Pruitt is committed to clean air and clean water, and to faithfully enforcing the environmental laws written by Congress. At the direction of Mr. Donald J. Trump, Mr. Pruitt will restore a thoughtful balance to the Environmental Protection Agency and will seek to preserve the environment in a responsible manner that will not unduly sacrifice our nation's economic well-being to appease the extreme left; and

Whereas, Mr. Pruitt has a long record of environmental protection in Oklahoma as the state's Attorney General. He negotiated a historic water rights settlement with Native American tribes that preserved the ecosystems of scenic lakes and rivers; he worked with his Democrat counterpart in Arkansas to reduce pollution in the Illinois River; and he represented the interests of Oklahomans in rate cases against utility companies and in numerous actions against those who contaminated his state's air and water, including lawsuits against oil and gas companies that were profiting off pollution and defrauding taxpayers; and

Whereas, for too long, the Environmental Protection Agency has overreached and sought aggressive measures that have achieved little environmental protection but have devastated economies and destroyed jobs. Mr. Pruitt will usher in an era of responsible stewardship, taking into account true costs and benefits of various approaches to environmental regulation. Unlike the current Environmental Protection Agency, he will be faithful to the wise balances struck in our nation's environmental laws; and

Whereas, unlike the current administration, Mr. Pruitt fully supports American energy producers and believes we must unleash America's energy revolution in order to create jobs and bring new wealth to the American people; and

Whereas, as Oklahoma Attorney General, Mr. Pruitt pushed for protections for local oil and gas producers to ensure they were not being infringed upon by an overbearing regulatory state; and

Whereas, Mr. Pruitt has demonstrated his willingness to take on and sue oil and gas producers when they have polluted in his own state; and

Whereas, Mr. Pruitt led efforts along with 18 attorneys general to successfully block the Environmental Protection Agency's attempts to harass America's farmers and ranchers by redefining what the term "navigable" water means under the Clean Water Act:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, hereby urge the United States Senate to confirm Mr. Pruitt as Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate and to all members of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 29, regarding the 2016 Class 4 state champion Troy Buchanan High School Girls' Trojans Softball Team, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 30, regarding the 2016 Class 3 state champion Warrenton High School Girls' Warriors Softball Team, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 31, regarding Janice Sneller, Holts Summit, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 32, regarding Corrections Officer I Patsy Whitley, New London, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 33, regarding Corrections Officer I Melissa Archer, Mexico, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 34, regarding Jim and Brenda Shortridge, Monroe County, which was adopted.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIFTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Wallingford in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Then my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; exulting in his deliverance.” (Psalm 35:9)

Almighty Father, often we are struck with the wonder of this gift of life we have been given. Each day we are blessed and appreciate the opportunity to live with purpose and joy and be about what You have created us to be. And Lord we are most thankful for Your presence in our lives guiding us to live the abundant life found in You. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 35, regarding Roland Dale Douglas, Branson West, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 36, regarding the Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary of Rich and Wyn Wittig, Kimberling City, which was adopted.

Senator Riddle offered Senate Resolution No. 37, regarding the American Heart Association Midwest Affiliate, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Romine offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas, the Joachim Creek runs through both Jefferson County and St. Francois County in Missouri;

Whereas, the Joachim Creek has changed over the course of time and has begun to endanger the health, safety, and welfare of citizens by being prone to frequent flash flood events;

Whereas, it is pertinent that action be taken in order to ensure that citizens located near Joachim Creek have safe housing and a safe environment to work, live, and raise their families;

Whereas, citizens, government agencies, community groups, and businesses need to come together to provide solutions for those afflicted by the Joachim Creek frequent flash flood events;

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the City of DeSoto and Jefferson County to establish a Joachim Creek Joint Task Force in order to:

1. Establish an early warning system to alert citizens of the need to evacuate during a flash flood event;
2. Conduct a study to better identify areas that are truly affected by repeated flooding of the Joachim Creek, and to distribute such results to assist in long-term planning in the Jefferson County area;
3. Determine if an organized property buyout is possible for areas that are truly affected by repeated flooding of the Joachim Creek; and
4. Identify methods that allow the area to use such flooding as an economic development tool; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Task Force may include the following members:

1. Traysa Sauer, Committee Member, Concerned Citizens for Flood Relief;
2. Susan Liley, Committee Member, Concerned Citizens for Flood Relief;
3. Paula Arbuthnot, Committee Member, Concerned Citizens for Flood Relief;
4. Elaine Gannon, State Representative, Missouri House of Representatives, District 115;
5. Claire McCaskill, Senator, United States Senate, or her designee;
6. Roy Blunt, Senator, United States Senate, or his designee;
7. Jason Smith, Congressman, United States House of Representatives, Missouri's 8th District, or his designee;
8. Gary Romine, Senator, Missouri State Senate, District 3;
9. Ben Harris, State Representative, Missouri House of Representatives, District 118;
10. Ken Waller, County Executive, Jefferson County;
11. Warren Robinson, Director, Jefferson County Office of Emergency Management;
12. Eric Larson, Director, Code Enforcement Division, Jefferson County;
13. David Dews, City Manager, City of DeSoto;
14. A representative from the Army Corps of Engineers;
15. A representative from the Missouri State Emergency Management Agency;
16. A representative from the Federal Emergency Management Agency;
17. A representative from the Jefferson County Office of Economic Development; and

Be it Further Resolved that the Task Force may elect a chairperson and other officeholders from within its membership, and may add members to the Task Force by a majority vote; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Jefferson County Executive Ken Waller, Senator Claire McCaskill, Senator Roy Blunt, Congressman Jason Smith, the Director of the Missouri State Emergency Management Agency, the Administrator of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and the Commanding General of the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

Senator Walsh offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

Whereas, meningococcal disease is any infection caused by the bacterium Neisseria meningitidis, or meningococcus. Although one in ten people are carriers for this bacteria with no signs or symptoms of disease, sometimes Neisseria meningitidis bacteria can cause illness; and

Whereas, meningococcal disease is spread from person to person through the exchange of bacteria through respiratory and throat secretion during close or lengthy contact; and

Whereas, in the United States, there are approximately 1,000 to 1,200 cases of meningococcal disease that occur each year; and

Whereas, ten to fifteen percent of infected individuals will die, while eleven to nineteen percent of those who live will suffer from serious morbidity, including loss of limbs and impacts to the nervous system; and

Whereas, infants under one year of age, as well as young adults between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one, are most commonly impacted by this disease; and

Whereas, there are different strains or serogroups of Neisseria meningitidis, with serogroups B, C, and Y accounting for most meningococcal disease in the United States; and

Whereas, there have been several recent outbreaks of serogroup B meningococcal disease on college campuses, with some cases resulting in death; and

Whereas, vaccines are available to prevent meningococcal disease, and different vaccines provide coverage against certain specific serogroups of the disease; and

Whereas, while there are vaccines that help provide protection against all three serogroups (B, C, and Y) commonly seen in the United States, only vaccination for serogroups A, C, W, and Y is routinely recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; and

Whereas, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices recommends that decisions to vaccinate adolescents and young adults sixteen through twenty-three years of age against serogroup B meningococcal disease should be made at the individual level with health care providers; and

Whereas, it is critical that students, parents, educators, and health care providers understand the dangers of meningitis B and are aware that a vaccine is available to prevent disease resulting from this serogroup:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, urge the Missouri Department of Higher Education and the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services to encourage all public and private high schools, colleges, and universities in Missouri to provide information to all students, parents, and guardians about meningococcal disease, explaining the different disease serogroups, symptoms, risks, and treatment options; and

Be It Further Resolved that such information should also include a notice of availability, benefits, risks, and limitations of all meningococcal vaccines receiving a recommendation from the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices, including Category A and Category B recommendations, with specific information as to those persons at higher risk for the disease; and

Be It Further Resolved that each public and private high school, college, and university in Missouri is urged to recommend that current and entering students receive meningococcal vaccines in accordance with current Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices guidelines; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Director of the Missouri Department of Higher Education and the Director of the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

Happy are they that trust in the Lord! (Psalm 40:4a)

We celebrate, and give thanks yet today for the faithful servant in our God, Martin Luther King, who truly trusted in the Lord, spoke his word to us and sought to help us live lives in harmony with our God and with one another. May we find ways to enrich the lives of one another, seeking to follow the path our Lord lays out before us. May we walk it boldly and courageously doing that which is needed and helpful. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Hoskins offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 7

Whereas, the state of Missouri and Israel share a deep and abiding friendship based on a shared commitment to democratic values; and
Whereas, Missouri's own President Harry S. Truman announced on May 14, 1948, that the United States would become the first country to recognize the new Nation of Israel; and

Whereas, since its establishment, Israel has fulfilled the dreams of its founders, who evidence a vigorous, open, and stable democracy; and

Whereas, Israel's Declaration of Independence enshrines a foundation of freedom and democracy using the strongest possible language that Israel will “ensure complete equality of social and political rights to all its inhabitants irrespective of religion, race or sex; it will guarantee freedom of religion, conscience, language, education and culture...” This idea is practiced in the unbroken tradition of free and open elections that is a necessary component to any vibrant democracy; and

Whereas, the election on March 17, 2015, is the most recent example of the commitment of Israel to the democratic ideals of freedom and pluralism, ideals that Israel shares with the United States; and

Whereas, Israel has a special relationship with the state of Missouri through cultural and economic partnerships resulting in numerous Israeli companies locating in Missouri for their North American headquarters as well as the Cooperative agreement between the Chief Science Officer of Israel and the Missouri Department of Economic Development to foster strategic partnerships between Israeli- and Missouri-based companies developing cutting edge technologies in agricultural science and other key technologies:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby:

(1) Express their respect and admiration for the people of Israel;

(2) Commend the people of Israel for reaffirming their dedication to democratic ideals as expressed in the election on March 17, 2015; and

(3) Restate the mission of the Missouri-Israel Cooperative Agreement, signed by the Missouri Department of Economic Development and the Israel Ministry of Industry and Trade in 1988, which calls for projects of mutual economic benefit through improved trade, technology development, science, agriculture, and tourism; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Prime Minister of Israel, Benjamin Netanyahu, and the Director of the Missouri Department of Economic Development.

VACANCIES: 1

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Eric Greitens, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

Governor Eric Greitens
2017 State of the State Address

A Message From The People

Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Parson; Speaker Richardson and the members of the Missouri House; President Pro Tem Richard and members of the Missouri Senate; Chief Justice Breckenridge and the judges of the Supreme Court of Missouri; State officials; and our honored guests. Thank you.

And thank you to Sheena, my beautiful wife, and Missouri's First Lady.

We meet tonight in the people's chamber.

This is the seat of our republic—where the people's will should be done.

Many of you have been good keepers of the public's trust. Your families have sacrificed so that you can serve the people, and I appreciate you and your families.

But too many good, strong public servants have come here only to see the will of the people obstructed and corrupted by insiders and lobbyists.

This is a big place, with a powerful purpose, and it has too often been consumed by small goals and petty politics.

So tonight, I come bearing a simple message from the people of Missouri: They want a government that fights for them, and I come as an outsider ready to lead that fight.

Last week, I signed an executive order banning gifts from lobbyists to state employees of the executive branch.

I think all elected officials should do the same. And I thank Speaker Richardson, President Richard, Senator Kehoe, Representative Cierpoit, and other leaders in this room for their commitment to passing a ban on gifts from lobbyists.

In our first executive order, we also slammed shut the revolving door between employees of the Governor's office and lobbyists. The people in my office come to work knowing they will never be able to lobby our office.

I urge the legislature to do the same. During the campaign, we came up with a simple proposal that the people supported. If you've been in a legislative office for one year, and you decide you want to become a lobbyist, you have to wait one year. If you've been in office for two years, then you have to wait two years—and so on.

This is a simple, sensible proposal, and I'm committed to working with you to close the revolving door.

I also call on this legislature to put on the ballot, term limits for every statewide officeholder. I know that the people of Missouri will vote for term limits, and people are counting on us to put an end to politics as a lifelong profession.

This is the people's government, and these basic measures will begin to restore our people's trust in their government.

Missourians are a hardworking people. They want good, quality jobs.

I remember being out one morning meeting folks and shaking hands at a diner in Portageville.

It was 5 AM, and it was going to be a hot day—but people were up. They were ready to work.

In county after county—in Pemiscott County, and in Dunklin County, and in Mississippi County—I spoke to people who want to work, who want a job, who want to provide for their families.

They are sick of seeing their friends have to get in a truck and drive across state lines for work. But they look over the border—and see opportunity.

They see that in Arkansas and in Tennessee, paychecks are getting bigger.

They see other Midwestern states like Michigan and Indiana that are leading the nation in new factory job growth.

Since 2009, the country has had 10% private sector job growth. If we had grown just as fast as the rest of the country since '09, we would have 120,000 more jobs in Missouri today.

And if income in Missouri had risen at the same rate as the rest of the country, the average Missouri family would be making $2,400 more every year. Instead, we've fallen behind.

The people have sent us a message: We must do everything in our power to put people back to work in good, high-paying jobs.

That's why we must join 27 other states and sign Right to Work.

That's why we must do away with expensive Project Labor Agreements that drive up the costs of construction and slow down important projects in our communities.

We must repeal our state's version of the Davis-Bacon act, which drives up the cost of important construction work that needs to get done. It hurts rural workers. It sets back rural families.

I've heard from small-town Mayors and County Commissioners who say that they are ready to build, to grow—but they need these reforms.

Our cities see the negative impact, too. People are tired of losing new jobs to Indianapolis, Nashville, or Des Moines. We must stay competitive.

We will eliminate these ineffective and outdated laws. And we will tap into the ingenuity and hard work of Missourians, because Missourians are ready to work.

There's another thing holding back jobs.

A report released about a month ago looked at every state, every city, and every county in the United States. And that report named St. Louis, Missouri the worst judicial hellhole in America.

This isn't a pretty picture. Here's what's happening: Out of state lawyers are suing businesses on behalf of out of state clients in Missouri's courts.

We're the place where the nastiest lawyers come to do work so dirty, and engage in lawsuits so murky, they wouldn't pass muster anywhere else.

What does this do? It scares away businesses. It means fewer jobs and smaller paychecks.

The companies intimidated by this shady practice have customers here. They could make even more money here. But they're afraid to expand their business here.

Trial lawyers can sue people in the state of Missouri, and because of how broken the system is, if they win just one dollar for their client, they still get paid huge legal fees.

For too long in this state, trial lawyers have picked our people's pockets.

It's time to do different.

There are some common sense changes we can make to fix this. We need to move to the Daubert standard for expert witness testimony. Right now, our standards are far too low. By moving to the Daubert standard, we'd be adopting the same standards used by the federal government and 39 other states.

We need to change our joinder and venue rules to end these out of state lawsuits. And we must end frivolous lawsuits by reforming the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act.

Our judicial system is broken, and the trial lawyers who have broken it, well, their time is up.

The people need us to fight for the jobs that lawyers are forcing out of our state. As Governor, I'm not afraid to take on the trial lawyers, of either party. I'm here to fight for the people, of both parties.

Another thing holding back jobs: burdensome regulations...

Last week, I signed an executive order putting a freeze on all new regulations and rulemaking. Let me tell you why.

There were two women in Missouri who had grown up braiding the hair of their family and friends and figured they could make a business of it.

Then they looked up what they'd need to do to become a hair braider in Missouri, and they were shocked.

Missouri's government mandates 1500 hours of expensive training for a hair braiding license. That's 30 hours per week of training for almost a full year...to braid hair.

We need to end frivolous regulations like these so that our people can start their own businesses and create jobs.

Over the course of the last 17 years, Missouri has issued over 40,000 pages of new regulations. If you laid those pieces of paper end to end, that's over 5 miles of new regulations.

These regulations, and those that come down from Washington, cost people money.

But there's a hidden cost, too. All of this regulation takes the joy out of running a business, running a farm, starting something new.

Farmers want to farm—not be lawyers and accountants. Business people want to build great things—not fill out endless paperwork.

And there's another problem: Some rules are necessary to protect health and safety. But when government spends time enforcing frivolous regulations, important things like safe water and safe travel don't get the time and attention they deserve.

I have ordered a complete review of every regulation in the state of Missouri. We're going to reduce unnecessary and outdated regulations so that we can get back to creating good, quality, high-paying jobs...

We need an effective government that serves the people and makes it easy to do business.

If you want to start or grow a business in the state of Missouri and hire more people with good jobs, I will be your friend and ally. I want the state of Missouri to work for you. To make it easy for you.

Right now, getting permits takes too long. People stand in too many lines for too many hours for too many basic services.

Part of the reason for this is that our government is running on too many broken and outdated systems that make it too hard to serve the people.

Some of our government's systems are still programmed using COBOL, a computer language developed in 1959.

We need a modern government that allows people to do more on-line instead of making them wait in line.

We also need to remember that many essential government services, whether it's law enforcement, transportation, or education, are delivered by people.

We need to support the hard-working employees in our government who do important public service. We have people at the State Emergency Management Agency, MoDOT and the Missouri State Highway Patrol, who worked non-stop from last Wednesday, straight through the Chiefs game, to make sure our state weathered this ice storm.

And our best state employees are being hurt by a big bloated bureaucracy. In Indiana, they have 46 state employees per 10,000 people in their state. In Illinois, they have 47 state employees for every 10,000 people. In Ohio, they have 55.

And in Missouri? We have 92 employees for every 10,000 people in our state.

Because of this, we are 50th out of 50 in state employee pay. We need to change that. Our government employees do important work—often really important, life-saving work. We need to reward the greatest in government service with better pay.

This is how a good business would run. We'd pay and promote our best people and make sure they know they are valued. And we'd have a government focused on doing fewer things but doing them well. That's how we'll be able to pay our star performers what they deserve.

That's one of the reasons why I'm committed to civil service reform, with a focus on making a smaller government that works better for all of our people and will make Missouri a better place to do business.

And there's another thing that's holding back jobs: our burdensome, complex, and unfair tax credit system.

All of you know how to run a family budget.

First, you pay down your credit card debt. Then, put some money away in a rainy day fund. Then, you budget for your most important needs.

Our constitution is wise. It follows that same advice. Our constitution lays out where our tax money should go.

First, it's supposed to pay off the debt. Then, it's supposed to fund our priorities.

There's a lot of wisdom there.

But unfortunately, the people who get paid first today are insiders and lobbyists who have rigged the system to get special interest tax credits.

Insiders are gaming this system. Since 2010, almost $2 billion has been promised to special interests. The people taking the money swore that it was going to create jobs, but their performance hasn't lived up to their promises.

If special interest tax credits made for a prosperous economy, Missouri would be thriving.

What our people want is a tax structure that is simple, fair to everyone, and low.

But instead we have a tax structure that is complex, corrupt, and high.

Together, with a team of outsiders and legislators, we are going to do a thorough, end-to-end audit of our tax credit system—and create a tax code that works not to benefit privileged insiders, but instead is fair to all.

I ask all of you—all of you—to work with me. Our state can create more jobs by doing the right thing here.

And another thing that's holding back jobs is our broken welfare system.

For almost ten years, I worked with veterans who had been let down by the VA.

My wife Sheena and I would have these strong men and women around our dinner table.

And we'd hear over and over again about how the system failed these men and women.

When they came back from war, the VA told them, "If you're 60% disabled, we'll pay you as if you're 100% disabled as long as you don't work..."

So what do you think happened? People didn't work.

And not having a job sapped their spirits. The government handed them checks and pills. And instead of building new lives here at home, too many got stuck. They became trapped in lives of dependency and depression.

They lost their sense of dignity. And what's worse, it also affected their children and their families.

Missouri's system of welfare too often does the same to our people.

We must find a way to reform it—and replace it with a system that builds lives of self-reliance, dignity, and meaning.

But that's not the system we have now.

Recently, a non-partisan think tank took a close look at the welfare system in each state.

Here's how things work in Missouri:

Let's say you're a single mom working 30 hours a week, making $12.25 an hour. You're working as hard as you can, taking care of your kid and trying to raise him right.

One day, your boss comes to you and offers you a $5 an hour raise. That should add up to about $7,500 to $8,000 more a year.

But here's what happens in Missouri: If you take the raise, you'd lose over $700 a year in food stamps and $800 in housing subsidies.

You lose $4,700 in childcare subsidies, and $1,200 in the earned income tax credit. And you'd pay an extra $800 in taxes.

That $8000 raise cost you over $8,200 dollars. That hard-working single mom is essentially robbed of her raise.

We need to build a system based on two simple principles:

- 1) It should always, always, always pay more to work in the state of Missouri.
- 2) If your boss gives you a raise, you should make more money.

I will work with all of you to build a system that lifts people out poverty and into the middle class, one based on hard work and personal responsibility.

Everywhere I went in the state of Missouri, people talked to me about the need for more jobs and higher pay.

They also talked about the need for safer streets.

Despite the failures of past politicians, the vast majority of the people in this state know, honor, and respect the men and women of law enforcement...

I want to say tonight—from this podium and in this place—thank to our law enforcement officers and first responders. And thank you to your families, who sacrifice every day so that we can be safe.

Here are the facts: three of the eleven most violent cities in America are in Missouri—St. Louis, Kansas City, and Springfield.

This violence affects far too many families—mine included.

And it's not just in the cities. When you talk to sheriffs, chiefs of police, and front line officers around the state, they'll tell you it's getting harder to do police work.

They'll tell you about what the FBI has identified: The Ferguson Effect.

They'll tell you that it's harder to recruit people to become police officers, and the officers who are on the job feel less empowered to proactively police.

Now, we're in a tough place in Missouri and we have to come together. We cannot go forward divided.

God has not given any of us a monopoly on wisdom. We all must make an effort to understand.

We will work with the law enforcement community and concerned citizens and clergy, to update our peace officers' standards and training.

We will make sure that all of our officers have the training, resources, and support they need both to protect themselves and to build strong relationships in their communities.

Here's what we have to do together: make this the greatest state in America to be a law enforcement officer, firefighter, or first responder. And we need to make this a state where every citizen feels that they too are safe and protected.

I want to establish a Blue Alert system, so that we can find and bring swift justice to anyone who assaults a law enforcement officer.

And my administration will work with this body to pass the toughest laws in the country for anyone who assaults a peace officer.

We need to make sure that our state highway patrol, that our corrections officers, have nonlethal tools like TASERs and adequate body armor when they are called to go into harm's way.

We also need to stand by our law enforcement officers, firefighters and first responders by aggressively applying for Homeland Security, AFG and SAFER Grants to make sure that they get every federal dollar they deserve.

And we also must work with the Department of Defense and with our military representatives here at home, including at Fort Leonard Wood, to make sure our military police officers and military firefighters can much more easily come back home and serve as police officers and firefighters on our streets.

We will do these things. But we need all of you to work alongside us to make Missouri safe.

And those of us in this room have a particular obligation. It is an obligation to hear people who are often unheard. To understand the frustrated, to listen to those who too often do not have a voice.

We need a justice system that does justice by all of our people. As a constitutional conservative, I believe, as you do, that the constitution applies to every citizen. I believe in the 6th Amendment, which guarantees the right to a fair trial and adequate legal representation for all.

I believe—as many of you do—that we must reform our corrections system. I believe our corrections officers do hard work, under difficult circumstances, and I am committed to standing by them and standing up for them.

In order to protect them, and in fact, in order to protect every citizen in Missouri, we need to find ways to reduce recidivism. If somebody gets out of prison, we want them to go to work. We want them to pay their fair share in taxes. We want them to take care of their kids. We want them to set a good example.

And the last thing we want is somebody coming out of prison and committing another crime which hurts another family and starts that same bad cycle all over again.

We need to do different. People who are in prison should have a clear plan—from the day they enter—about what direction their lives will take the day they leave.

To tackle this problem, we need to engage groups from across society: most importantly our faith community. I have seen that a turn towards faith can actually save lives in prison. And I will welcome our churches and our synagogues into our corrections facilities.

These steps are but the beginning. And the path towards safer streets for all is built on a combination of support for law enforcement, relationships rooted in understanding, economic and educational opportunity, and a justice system that has the confidence of all of its citizens.

Peace is more than the absence of war. And safety and security are more than the absence of violence. Safety and security are built on the basis of understanding—and we in the people's house must be examples for making an effort to understand each other and bring communities together.

That understanding starts with our young people. And it begins in our homes—and in our schools.

I think we will all agree that we have incredible young people here in the state of Missouri.

And yet, we have an education system that ranks near last in every measure that matters.

Our people have done their part. Missouri pays about the national average for its education system.

Yet even though we spend what the rest of the country spends on education, we rank 47th in starting teacher pay. We have great teachers, and I believe our great teachers deserve to be paid more.

And let me be perfectly clear: this administration is committed to protecting teachers' pensions.

What we need to do is make sure that the money we spend finds its way into the classroom.

Over half of Missouri school districts do not offer a single Advanced Placement class. Over 200 of our 520 school districts did not have a single student in physics. Over 100 did not have a single student enrolled in chemistry.

We need to expand course access programs, so that every child in Missouri can use technology to get the education they need.

We also need to make sure that every child in Missouri, especially those kids with special needs, get a fair shot at the American Dream. I will work with you to implement Education Savings Accounts for children with special needs.

Education Savings Accounts are simple. Kids with special needs have IEPs, individualized education plans. With education savings accounts, parents are able to use their fair share of state education money in a way that fits with what their kids need.

Arizona was the first state in the country to try these accounts, and the program has been a success. Parents are much happier with their children's educations, and children are able to get the kind of education that meets their needs.

We do best when we put power into the hands of parents and teachers at the local level.

Special needs families know their children best. And it is time we gave control back to those parents, to select the best possible education for their children.

Every kid in the state of Missouri—whether in a public school, private school, or homeschool—deserves a fair shot at the American Dream. And these are just a few of the things we can do to make that happen.

What I have outlined tonight are some of the simple and sensible requests that the people have for all of us.

And this is how we begin. Not every problem that we're facing in the state of Missouri can be solved in the next week, the next month or the next year. But this agenda is a strong and bold start.

We have an opportunity to have a truly historic legislative session. Let's heed the voice of the people and let's take Missouri in a new direction.

Thank you very much. God bless you and God bless the people of Missouri.

On motion of Senator Kehoe, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by President Parson.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

EIGHTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul; the decrees of the Lord are sure.” (Psalm 19:7)

Heavenly Father: We are most thankful for Your presence with us as we try to make laws that enlighten and provide justice for our people. Guide and direct our minds and actions this day that we might be about what is required of us by You having a clear eye of discernment and rejoicing heart in our interactions with one another and with You our God. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal for the previous day was read and approved.

Senator Kehoe announced photographers from St. Louis Public Radio and KSN-KODE-TV were given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber.

Senator Curls offered Senate Resolution No. 75, regarding Colonel J. Bret Johnson, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Schupp and Nasheed offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

Whereas, extensive and credible reports have revealed mass killing of prisoners of conscience in the People's Republic of China, primarily practitioners of the spiritual based exercises of Falun Gong, but also other religious and ethnic minority groups, in order to obtain organs for transplants; and

Whereas, the organ transplantation system in China does not comply with the World Health Organization's Guiding Principles of traceability and transparency in organ procurement pathways, and the government of the People's Republic of China has resisted independent scrutiny of the system; and

Whereas, traditional Chinese custom requires bodies to be preserved intact after death. With rare voluntary organ donation, however, China's transplantation industry significantly increased since 2000; and

Whereas, the Department of State Country Report on Human Rights for China for 2011 stated, "Overseas and domestic media and advocacy groups continued to report instances of organ harvesting, particularly from Falun Gong practitioners and Uighurs"; and

Whereas, a new investigative report, published in June 2016, conducted by human rights attorney David Matas, former Canadian Secretary of State for Asia-Pacific David Kilgour, and journalist Ethan Gutmann, estimated that China is performing 60,000 to 100,000 transplants per year as opposed to 10,000 transplants claimed by the Chinese government, which is "an industrial-scale, state-directed organ transplantation system, controlled through national policies and funding, and implicating both the military and civilian healthcare systems"; and

Whereas, China's Liver Transplant Registry System indicated that more than 25% of cases were emergency transplants, for which an organ was found within days or even hours. Wait times for non-emergency liver transplants were usually quoted in weeks. Most patients in other countries have to wait years for a transplant; and

Whereas, the Chinese government claims that 90% of China's organ transplant sources come from executed prisoners. However, the number of executions has dropped 10% annually since 2002 and is far less than the number of transplants taking place. The government has never acknowledged the sourcing of organs from prisoners of conscience; and

Whereas, Falun Gong, a spiritual practice involving meditative “qigong” exercises and centered on the values of truthfulness, compassion, and forbearance, became immensely popular in China in the 1990s, with multiple estimates placing the number of practitioners at upwards of 70 million; and

Whereas, in July 1999, the Chinese Communist Party launched an intensive, nationwide persecution designed to eradicate the spiritual practice of Falun Gong, including physical and mental torture, reflecting the party’s long-standing intolerance of large independent civil society groups; and

Whereas, since 1999, hundreds of thousands of Falun Gong practitioners have been detained extra-legally in Chinese reeducation-through-labor camps, detention centers, and prisons, where torture, abuse, and implausible medical exams and blood tests on Falun Gong practitioners are routine; and

Whereas, Freedom House reported in 2015 that Falun Gong practitioners comprise the largest portion of prisoners of conscience in China, and face an elevated risk of dying or being killed in custody; and

Whereas, the United Nations Committee Against Torture and the Special Rapporteur on Torture have expressed concern over the allegations of organ harvesting from Falun Gong prisoners, and have called on the Government of the People’s Republic of China to increase accountability and transparency in the organ transplant system and punish those responsible for abuses; and

Whereas, in June 2016, the U.S. House of Representatives unanimously passed House Resolution 343, condemning the systematic, state-sanctioned organ harvesting from Falun Gong and other prisoners of conscience; and

Whereas, the killing of religious or political prisoners for the purpose of selling their organs for transplant is an egregious and intolerable violation of the fundamental right to live; and

Whereas, organ tourism to China should not be shielded by medical confidentiality, but openly monitored. No nation should allow their citizens to go to China for organs until China has allowed a full investigation into organ harvesting of prisoners of conscience, both past and present:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby:

(1) Call on the Government of the People’s Republic of China to immediately end the practice of organ harvesting from all prisoners and prisoners of conscience, and explicitly from Falun Gong prisoners of conscience and members of other religious and ethnic minority groups;

(2) Call upon the Government of the People’s Republic of China to immediately end the 17-year persecution of the Falun Gong, and the immediate release of all Falun Gong practitioners and other prisoners of conscience;

(3) Call upon the President of the United States to undertake a full and transparent investigation by the United States Department of State into organ transplant practices in the People’s Republic of China, and calls for the prosecution of those found to have engaged in such unethical practices;

(4) Will take measures to initiate a registry for residents of Missouri who travel abroad to receive organ transplants; and

(5) Will take measures to ban the entry of those who have participated in illegal removal of human tissues and organs, and seek prosecution of such individuals should they be found on the soil of Missouri; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President and Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the chair of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, the chair of the House Committee on Foreign Relations, and each member of the Missouri’s Congressional delegation.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

NINTH DAY—THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“How precious also are Thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand.” (Psalm 139:17-18)

Gracious God: Provide us time with friends and family and time in Your house this weekend, for we rejoice knowing the bounty of Your blessings and that whatever comes into our lives first existed as a thought in Your mind. May we gratefully acknowledge Your gifts to us and give You thanks for watching our going out and coming in. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal for the previous day was read and approved.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

Senator Walsh offered Senate Resolution No. 83, regarding Lori Bethman, Hazelwood, which was adopted.

Senator Sifton offered Senate Resolution No. 84, regarding Affton Plaza, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Holsman offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9

Relating to an application to Congress for the calling of an Article V convention of states to propose certain amendments to the United States Constitution which regulate elections.

Whereas, the framers of the Constitution of the United States of America intended that the Congress of the United States of America should be "dependent on the people alone" (James Madison, Federalist 52); and

Whereas, that dependency has evolved from a dependency on the people alone to a dependency on powerful special interests, through campaigns or third-party groups, that have created a fundamental imbalance in our representative democracy; and

Whereas, Americans across the political spectrum agree that elections in the United States of America should be free from the disproportional influence of special interests and fair enough that any citizen can be elected into office; and

Whereas, the Constitution of the State of Missouri states "that all political power is vested in and derived from the people; that all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole" and the people have the exclusive right to alter their constitutions of government whenever they deem it necessary (Article I, Sections 1 & 3); and

Whereas, Article V of the United States Constitution requires Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the federal Constitution on the application of two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states; and

Whereas, the Missouri General Assembly perceives the need for an amendments convention in order to restore balance and integrity to our elections by proposing an amendment to the federal Constitution that will permanently protect free and fair elections in America by addressing, inter alia, issues raised by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission (2010) 130 S.Ct. 876 and related cases and events, and desires that said convention should be so limited; and

Whereas, the State of Missouri desires that the delegates to said convention shall be comprised equally of individuals currently elected to state and local office, or be selected by election, in each Congressional district for the purpose of serving as delegates, though all individuals elected or appointed to federal office, now or in the past, be prohibited from serving as delegates to the convention, and intends to retain the ability to restrict or expand the power of its delegates within the limits expressed herein; and

Whereas, the State of Missouri intends that this be a continuing application considered together with applications calling for a convention passed in the 2013-2014 Vermont legislature as R454, the 2013-2014 California legislature as Resolution Chapter 77, the 98th Illinois General Assembly as SJR 42, the 2014-2015 New Jersey legislature as SCR 132, the 2015-2016 Rhode Island legislature as HR 7670 and SR 2589, and all other passed, pending, and future applications until such time as two-thirds of the several states have applied for a convention for a similar purpose and said convention is convened by Congress:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby apply to the United States Congress, under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution for the calling of a convention of the states for the exclusive purpose of proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution that will restore free and fair elections as described herein; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States; the Vice President of the United States in his capacity as presiding officer of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Minority Leader of the United States House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate, to each Senator and Representative from Missouri in the Congress of the United States with the respectful request that the full and complete text of this resolution be printed in the Congressional Record, to the presiding officers of each legislative body of each of the several states, requesting the cooperation of the states in issuing an application compelling Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments pursuant to Article V of the U.S. Constitution.

Read 1st time.

Senator Wieland offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

Whereas, the deeply held religious convictions and moral beliefs of the people of the State of Missouri and the City of Saint Louis should be respected rather than attacked; and

Whereas, Saint Louis Board of Aldermen Board Bill 203 would allow the City of Saint Louis to penalize by fines of up to five hundred dollars and imprisonment for up to ninety days, property owners and Missouri citizens who choose not to be associated with the abortion industry; and

Whereas, Board Bill 203 would allow the City of Saint Louis to penalize by fines of up to five hundred dollars and imprisonment for up to ninety days, religious institutions and Missourians of faith for making employment decisions based upon their religious beliefs and practices; and

Whereas, Board Bill 203 would force the citizens of Missouri and the City of Saint Louis to be complicit in the intrinsic evil of abortion; and

Whereas, Board Bill 203 would violate religious liberty and individual rights to conscience; and

Whereas, Board Bill 203 would represent a grave abuse of local authority and threaten constitutional liberties of the residents of, and property owners and employers in, the State of Missouri and the City of Saint Louis, including those guaranteed by the Bill of Rights, the Missouri Constitution, and Missouri law, such as the Missouri Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 2003 and Senate Bill 749 of 2012; and

Whereas, it should be the moral imperative of all governmental bodies to RESPECT and PROTECT life at all of its stages; and

Whereas, the United States Supreme Court has ruled that citizens cannot be compelled to violate their religious practices and beliefs, such as in its 2014 decision of Burwell v. Hobby Lobby; and

Whereas, Board Bill 203 would violate Missouri law related to the regulation of abortion, including but limited to, the right of conscience of health care providers and institutions, employers, and taxpayers who oppose abortion and the funding thereof, as found in Chapters 188, 191, and 197 of the Missouri statutes:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the City of Saint Louis Board of Aldermen to defeat Board Bill 203 and protect the religious liberty and right of conscience of all Missouri citizens, property owners, and employers; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Mayor, the President of the Board of Aldermen, and each member of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Saint Louis.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The following Bills were read the 1st time and ordered printed:

SB 316—By Rowden.

An Act to amend chapter 407, RSMo, by adding thereto eight new sections relating to password protection.

SB 317—By Sater.

SB 320—By Hummel.

An Act to repeal section 67.275, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to electrical contractor licenses.

SB 321—By Hegeman.

An Act to repeal section 307.178, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to the admissibility of the use of a safety belt as evidence of comparative negligence, with an existing penalty provision.

SB 322—By Wieland and Romine.

An Act to amend chapter 227, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to the designation of certain memorial infrastructure.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Kehoe offered the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 85

WHEREAS, the Administration Committee is required by law to establish the rates of pay each year, and

WHEREAS, such rates of pay are to be the same as those established under the policies of the Personnel Division of the Office of Administration for comparable duties after examination of the rates of pay then in effect, and

WHEREAS, the rates of pay established shall become effective in January.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Committee on Administration that the number, classification and rates of pay authorized for employees of the Senate shall include one department director and six division level directors to be compensated according to Office of Administration guidelines; and the following authorized employees at rates of pay within the ranges hereby established.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages was received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCR 4, entitled:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Relating to disapproving the recommendations of the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

WHEREAS, Article XIII, Section 3 of the Missouri Constitution charges the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials with setting the amounts of compensation paid to statewide elected officials, legislators, and judges; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution provides the Commission with a four-month window prior to its constitutional deadline for making salary recommendations to hold public hearings around the state to gather testimony related to salaries for affected state officials and to carefully consider whether pay increases are warranted; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials has recommended that the compensation for statewide elected officials be increased by eight percent over fiscal years 2018 and 2019, representing a total additional cost to the state of Missouri for the recommended salary adjustments of $54,884 in 2018 to $57,023 in 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials has also recommended that the compensation for members of the General Assembly be increased by two and one-half percent for the next two years, representing a total additional cost to the state of Missouri for the recommended salary adjustments of $176,881 in 2018 to $181,303 in 2019; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials recommended that daily expense compensation for members of the General Assembly be $150 per day of service; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials recommended the salary for judges to continue to be calculated under the formula currently in place over fiscal years 2018 and 2019; and

WHEREAS, the state has many other priorities for appropriating money in the budget that are far more important than the salary increases recommended by the commission; and

WHEREAS, the Commission's recommendations shall take effect unless disapproved by the General Assembly through a concurrent resolution process passed by two-thirds majorities in each legislative chamber before February 1, 2017:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby disapprove the recommendations of the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials contained in its report of December 2016; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be sent to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Read 1st time.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the Speaker has appointed the following committee to act with a like committee from the Senate pursuant to HCR 2. Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

ELEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Senator Emery offered the following prayer:

“I will give them a heart to understand that I am Yahweh, and they shall be My people and I will be their God when they return to Me with all their heart.” (Jeremiah 24:7)

Holy Father, we find in our lives our need of You and know that if we truly seek You, You will be our God. We know and trust that You will guide us by prompting our hearts to be about that which You desire of us. And we seek to know You so we may know ourselves which leads us to the path of righteousness in our thoughts and actions. So may Your spirit dwell with in us so we may apply our lives entirely to love and service You require. In Your holy name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

VACANCIES: 1

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Patricia Breckenridge, escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where she delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

2017 State of the Judiciary Address

Lieutenant Governor Parson, Speaker Richardson and members of the House, President Pro Tem Richard and members of the Senate, Governor Greitens and other statewide officers. I am proud to be here today as the voice of the judicial branch.

I am so grateful to have served in the judiciary since my appointment to the trial bench by Governor Kit Bond, to the court of appeals by Governor John Ashcroft, and to the Supreme Court by Governor Matt Blunt. It has been my privilege to serve with judges appointed by both Republican and Democratic governors and to work to decide cases according to the law.

Before I begin, I would like to introduce my husband, Bryan. For 40 years, he has loved and supported me and kept me grounded. Thank you for being here with me this morning.

Earlier this month, I swore in Governor Greitens and other statewide officials. Not all chief justices get to participate in this democratic transition of power, and it was such an honor. For me, it served as a reminder of how alike we are. We share a commitment to work separately and together to make the great state of Missouri even greater. Some, however, focused on how we are different. One tweet questioned the legitimacy of the oaths because of those differences. Apparently, I – correctly – said “MissourAH,” while you said, “MissourEE.”

Our different pronunciations reflect the rich diversity of our state – we come from cities, towns and rural areas to work in Jefferson City. You represent literally every nook and cranny of Missouri. We on the Supreme Court are also geographically diverse. I am from Nevada, in the southwest corner of the state. Judge Zel Fischer grew up in Watson, as far north and west as you can get and still be in Missouri (rumor has it, you can see Nebraska from there). Judge Paul Wilson is from right here in Jefferson City. Judge George Draper is from St. Louis, and while Judge Laura Stith grew up in St. Louis, she has lived in Kansas City for more than 35 years. And Judge Mary Russell is from Hannibal.

This is my fourth and, I am relieved to say, last big speech to deliver as chief justice. But I welcome the chance to talk about my favorite subject – the courts, often called the “least understood” branch of government.

Our 3,400 employees serve in your courts and, every year, are asked to do more with less. I encourage you to visit a local courthouse and meet these dedicated professionals who embrace their responsibility to treat every person fairly and equitably and to resolve disputes according to the law.

Our state employees are the lowest paid in the nation. Despite this, they are hardworking, dedicated, and deserving of our respect. I know budget times are tight, but we must find a way to pay them 21st century wages for 21st century work. Please join me in recognizing our state employees who serve in all branches of our government.

In the last fiscal year, more than 1.8 million cases were filed in Missouri courts – of these, 60 percent involved municipal ordinance violations. In our circuit courts, the largest number of cases involve the prosecution of state crimes. Seventeen percent of our cases are civil – primarily small claims, domestic relations, landlord tenant matters and disputes of less than $25,000. About 5 percent of civil cases – and fewer than 1 percent of all cases – involve tort claims like wrongful death or personal injury.

I understand Governor Greitens and some of you in the General Assembly have called for changes in the law governing certain types of cases.

Do not view these calls for action as a condemnation of our judicial system.

Our citizens can be proud of our courts, where they go to resolve their disputes peaceably and where their constitutional rights are protected. Day in and day out, in the courtrooms in your communities, hundreds of thousands of cases are adjudicated without fanfare. We, more than anyone, want our courts to live up to their responsibilities to properly administer justice.

So when serious problems in some St. Louis County municipal divisions came to light, we owned those problems. Though the vast majority of our 625 municipal divisions function well, the challenge of problem municipal divisions in St. Louis County and elsewhere in the state became an opportunity to make all of our municipal divisions better.

From within the judicial system, judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and clerks rolled up their sleeves and crafted solutions that would work. We are grateful for this leadership. Their yeoman's work turned recommendations for reforms into tangible change. Changes came when our Court imposed mandatory standards – effective upon their adoption in September – detailing how municipal divisions must operate under the law. The standards are extensive. We also put in place a code of conduct for all municipal division personnel and defined what constitutes a conflict of interest for judges who choose to wear multiple hats.

While some say the standards don't go far enough, others say they have gone too far. Some municipalities are finding it difficult to do what they should have been doing all along. But my years on the trial bench taught me if both sides are not totally satisfied, perhaps we got it right.

We and the state court administrator's office have also worked with a number of municipalities to consolidate their court operations, including 13 in St. Louis County. Consolidation results in reduced costs, which we hope will disincentivize municipalities from using courts as revenue generators. Many have worked hard to accomplish consolidation, particularly in St. Ann and Normandy. Unfortunately, the cost savings may not be fully realized for some, due to a law that caps the number of municipalities a judge may serve.

Additionally, Missouri's constitution places responsibility on the presiding judge of each circuit to supervise the municipal divisions. So, last month, the Supreme Court adopted protocols to guide presiding judges and make their authority clear. We recognize supervision poses a special challenge in St. Louis County and, in an effort to assist, the Supreme Court is providing municipal division monitors.

Municipal divisions are not alone in the spotlight. Others leveled criticisms at our juvenile divisions, including their very structure. Missouri has never been afraid to lead, and this state decided long ago our juvenile system should be different from other states. Our juvenile proceedings are designed to be non-adversarial, and all parties are required to act in the best interest of the child.

Nonetheless, we thoughtfully considered the criticisms and responded by enacting reforms that make all of our juvenile divisions better. In doing so, the judiciary worked with leaders from around the state to develop standards for juvenile officers. These standards, adopted in December, create uniform practices and procedures; establish a code of conduct; and outline best practices that promote better outcomes for Missouri's children.

Our next goal is to improve pretrial incarceration practices. Incarcerating persons simply because they are too poor to post bond needs to be examined in both municipal and criminal cases. Under our Missouri Constitution, an individual may be incarcerated before trial only when charged with a capital offense; when a danger to a crime victim, a witness, or the community; or a flight risk. All other persons are entitled to reasonable conditions of release prior to trial, based on the particular circumstances of their cases.

Our cities and counties incur costs for pretrial incarcerations of people who simply are poor. There are individual and societal consequences from these unwarranted pretrial incarcerations. The consequences impact the defendants, their families and, ultimately, the state. Defendants lose not only their freedom but also their ability to earn a living and to provide for loved ones. Children may even come into state custody, because incarcerated parents are not home to care for them. And – after only three days in jail – the likelihood that an individual will commit future crimes also increases.

A Supreme Court task force will examine how other states and cities have addressed the problem of unwarranted pretrial incarceration and recommend changes to our practices. We look forward to sharing what we learn with you and working together to enact common-sense reforms.

We also will be sharing with you the work of the Supreme Court's committee on treatment courts. The committee is completing a strategic plan that can be a roadmap to improving both the quality of and access to treatment courts in Missouri. Our branches of government have long worked together because treatment courts are a proven, cost-effective way to change the lives of persons charged with crimes due to addiction or mental health disorders. Missouri is a national leader in developing quality treatment courts; however, we have not realized their full potential to reduce recidivism, produce productive citizens, reunify families, and address the needs of our veterans. Your continued support will be essential if we ever are to realize the full potential of treatment courts.

Technology also remains a top priority as we strive to make courts as accessible as possible to our citizens. As Governor Greitens noted last week, we need a modern government that allows people to do more online instead of making them wait in line. We share that goal.

We are thankful for the expertise of our 21st century workforce, which has been invaluable in improving and modernizing our computer systems. Our judges and staff are collaborating in the development of software that puts more information at a judge's fingertips and will allow potential jurors to get information about their service from their smartphones. We are also developing a traffic and ordinance case management system to increase the efficiency of municipal divisions in managing and disposing of cases, assessing authorized costs, and processing payments. The system will ultimately reduce the number of litigants who must come to court because they will have increased access to the courts from their mobile devices.

We are grateful the legislature recognized the need to automate our courts back in 1994 and has partnered with and supported us in accomplishing that goal. The work has been overseen by the Missouri Court Automation Committee, on which Senators Bob Dixon and Scott Sifton – along with Representatives Robert Cornejo and Joe Don McGaugh – work with the judicial and the executive branches.

In 2016, Missouri completed its statewide electronic filing system. We are the first state to have e-filing in all courts of record. We also finished implementing “Pay by Web,” which allows Missourians to pay fees and costs online. And “Track this Case” lets the public receive e-mail notices of activity in pending cases. Who here doesn't know about Case.net, which provides information about more than 20 million cases statewide and receives an average of 5 million hits every workday.

While Case.net lets you know that documents have been filed in court, you cannot access those documents without going to a courthouse and using a public computer terminal. The Missouri Court Automation Committee has recommended the judiciary allow remote access, but expansion of public access to case records can be done only if the security and reliability of the courts' essential operations can be guaranteed. And such expansion of the system will require more resources than currently available. To defray the expenses of expansion and maintenance, the courts and legislature may need to consider means such as subscription fees or pay-per-view charges like those assessed by federal courts.

Equally of concern is the question of exactly what should be available online. Missouri statutes govern which case documents are public. But many of these statutes were enacted before – sometimes long before – the modern computer age. So it is safe to say statutes making certain case documents “public” meant available at the clerk's office, and in paper form, not available instantly to anyone anywhere in the world.

Certainly, a strong presumption of openness is a bedrock of our legal system. But – given the unique concerns arising from online access – the Court wants to be sure the legislature has the opportunity to reexamine statutes governing public case documents to determine if they are the will of this body and the people you represent. We are willing to advise and assist in any way we can.

As we move forward with innovations and improvements, we do so with two significant changes in leadership.

In late November, our colleague Judge Richard Teitelman passed away. Simply known as Judge Rick to many, he was the first person of Jewish faith and the first legally blind person to serve as a judge of our state's high court. He believed in the goodness of humanity and was a steadfast champion of equal justice. While we may not have always agreed in our legal opinions, we knew no friend more loyal or caring, and we miss him.

And so the process to fill his vacancy has begun. As provided by our state constitution, any licensed Missouri attorney who meets the age and residency requirements may apply until February 3rd. If you know of qualified individuals you believe would be an asset to our Court, please nominate and encourage them to apply. Interviews will be held at the end of February at the Supreme Court and are open to the public. The Appellate Judicial Commission will select three well-qualified nominees for the governor's consideration. The constitution gives Governor Greitens 60 days to conduct his own review and select the new judge. We look forward to this appointment.

We also begin the year with a new leader at the Supreme Court. Bill Thompson, who expertly guided us as counsel and clerk for more than 38 years, retired in December. He was succeeded by the first woman ever to hold the position of clerk – Betsy AuBuchon. Many of you may know Betsy from her days in the capitol. She has earned our respect and trust, and we are confident she will be an exceptional leader for Missouri's judicial system. We know these two additions to the judiciary will help us continue to make our courts better for Missouri's citizens.

Speaker Richardson, you commented in your address on the first day of the session that we must ensure our court system is fair to all litigants. We agree ... and are so very grateful our courts are staffed by dedicated and talented people who share that belief and properly handle cases of all types. Missouri has a judicial system of which we can be proud. We constantly strive to better serve our citizens and, as we look to the future, I have no doubt we will continue to do so.

Thank you for your support of the judicial branch. I wish you all the best in your service to the people of Missouri.

On motion of Senator Kehoe, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by President Parson.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

TWELFTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“And those who know Your name will put their trust in You: for You, O Lord, have not forsaken those that seek You.” (Psalm 9:10)

Dear Lord, each day we hear the news that is full of trouble, with so much pain and sorrow and calls to our office seeking help for their difficulties, that it seems that is all there is. So we turn to You and know that You are near on our darkest days and there we find comfort in knowing You are present in our lives. Your presence gives us light and direction to lighten our mood and energize our efforts so we give You thanks and praise for Your being in our lives. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

Senator Kehoe announced photographers from The Missouri Times were given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Wieland offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

Whereas, steamboats are deeply entwined in Missouri's history and culture; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen steamboat operated for many years and in many areas across the country as top of the line luxury travel, and was previously allowed to provide overnight cruises; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen steamboat has carried three different United States Presidents, and transported delegates of 51 other nations during the founding conference of the United Nations; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen is widely considered the last steamboat of its kind with overnight guest rooms; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen was once home to Mary Greene, who was one of the first women to become a licensed river pilot; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen is expected to visit over 80 different ports in the United States when it resumes operation; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen has established a home port, restaurant, and headquarters in Kimmswick, Missouri; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen Steamboat Co. has created over 170 local jobs and is expected to bring in more than $36.4 million to the region annually; and

Whereas, resuming overnight cruises would bring even more economic benefits to the region, and create further economic growth and opportunity; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen has been designated as a “National Treasure” by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and declared a National Historic Landmark; and

Whereas, the Delta Queen was named to the National Trust for Historic Preservation's “11 most endangered list” for 2016; and

Whereas, United States Senate Bill S. 89 exempts old vessels that only operate within the inland waterways from federal fire-retardant materials requirements if the owners of the vessel make annual structural alterations to at least ten percent of the areas of the vessel that are not constructed of fire-retardant materials:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge that the United States Congress enact United States Senate Bill S. 89; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

The following Bills and Joint Resolution were read the 1st time and ordered printed:

SB 342—By Holsman.

An Act to amend chapter 135, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to an earned income tax credit.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRTEENTH DAY—THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I will give thanks to the Lord with my whole heart;..” (Psalm 9:1)

We pray, O Lord, that You will watch over our travel home this day. We pray that You will look kindly on our families and bless them so that they may be filled with love and happiness as they fulfill the responsibilities You have given to them. And may we stay connected with You Lord, and be mindful of Your presence this weekend. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

Present—Senators

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Sater offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12

Relating to Law Enforcement Recognition Week.

Whereas, designating a period of time to recognize and appreciate our law enforcement officers is an altogether fitting expression of our gratitude toward them; and

Whereas, the brave men and women who undertake the difficult and sometimes impossible pledge to protect and serve the public are essential to the safety of our citizens; and

Whereas, our law enforcement officers too frequently receive little or no expressed appreciation for performing services which place enormous burdens upon themselves and their families and which may, at any time, place them in danger of losing life and limb; and

Whereas, the people of Missouri hold law enforcement officers in the highest regard and wish to express profound appreciation for them:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby designate the week beginning on the second Saturday of June each year as "Law Enforcement Recognition Week" in the state of Missouri, and encourage citizens of Missouri to observe the week with appropriate activities and events to recognize and support the men and women who protect and serve the public; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

Read 1st time.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FOURTEENTH DAY—MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Senator Rowden offered the following prayer:

Our Father, as we enter in to a new week here in the Missouri Senate, we do so with a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities before us. We are humans — deeply flawed and in need of guidance and wisdom that only You can provide. We come before You in humility, recognizing the importance of the decisions we make in this chamber and their impact on the people of this great state.

Today, we pray for those in this state who are in need. The single mom struggling to make ends meet, the family broken by addiction, the grandmother struggling to raise her two young grandchildren alone. As we begin our duties this week, I pray that we would have the clearest understanding possible of the work that can be done in this chamber to help those who, for whatever reason, cannot help themselves.

I pray that we would heed the words on the prophet Micah —

He has told you, O man, what is good—and what does the Lord require of you,

but to do justice and to love kindness,

and to walk humbly with your God?

We thank You for placing us here at this time and at this place to serve the people of Missouri. It is a responsibility we will not take for granted, but embrace with thankfulness in our hearts. AMEN

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIFTEENTH DAY—TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Senator Schupp offered the following prayer:

Good morning.

The Torah is the first five books of Moses...Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. The Torah portion being studied this week by Jews around the world deals with the final 3 plagues that result in Israelites being granted their freedom from slavery under the Egyptian Pharaoh.

The 9th and final plague was the plague of darkness, darkness so thick that the people were immobilized and felt lost even in their own familiar surroundings... for whole of the three days the plague lasted.

As we look to the lessons for today, we recognize that we, too, can get lost in the darkness, losing sight of what is really important in the midst of this familiar place. ...Losing sight of the true needs: for justice, for equality, for freedom and protections for all of the people of Missouri.

Today's prayer is in the form of a poem from Alden Solovy, with adaptations entitled:

For Political Leadership

God of history,

We yearn for thoughtful leadership,

For men and women of inspiration and insight,

Visionaries to build nations and communities

In Your image,

Stewards dedicated to justice,

Unafraid to face the challenges of our day,

Doing so without being lead by fear...

So that our cities and countries resonate with

Compassion and health,

Justice and mercy,

Kindness and peace.

Bless our leaders

With dedication and foresight,

Fortitude and imagination

To solve the complex issues that threaten our future.

May they lead us to a time when neighbors embrace
 And the communities thrive,
 A time when liberty and equality
 Reign supreme.

Source and Shelter,
 Grant safety and security to all nations and communities,
 So that truth and harmony will resound
 From the four corners of the earth.
 Let the light of wisdom
 Shine brightly in the halls of power,
 A beacon of hope
 For every land and every people.
 And together we say: Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal for the previous day was read and approved.

The following Senators were present during the day's proceedings:

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SIXTEENTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

Hear my cry, O God, and listen to my prayer.” (Psalm 61:1)

Almighty God, we call upon You and ask that You hear our prayers. We trust in Your presence in our lives. We remember the history of our ancestors and reflect on how they contributed to who we are today. We are thankful that we are now part of that history and making our own contributions. It is here that we can make a significant contribution to the promotion of justice that You require of us, so guide and help us provide such bills that are helpful in accomplishing this end. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal for the previous day was read and approved.

The following Senators were present during the day’s proceedings:

Present—Senators

Brown	Chappelle-Nadal	Cunningham	Curls	Dixon	Eigel	Emery

The Lieutenant Governor was present.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Schupp offered Senate Resolution No. 176, regarding Eugene Joseph “Gene” Hinrichs, Bridgeton, which was adopted.

Senator Schupp offered Senate Resolution No. 177, regarding Erwin Sigmund “Erv” Adam, Kirkwood, which was adopted.

Senator Sater offered Senate Resolution No. 178, regarding Madison Hicks, which was adopted.

Senator Kehoe offered Senate Resolution No. 179, regarding the Missouri Catholic Conference, which was adopted.

Senator Schupp offered Senate Resolution No. 180, regarding Lester Louis “Les” Dills, Overland, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Sater offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

Relating to the observance of Ronald Reagan Day in Missouri.

Whereas, President Ronald Wilson Reagan, a man of humble background, worked throughout his life serving freedom and advancing the public good, having been employed as an entertainer, Union leader, corporate spokesman, Governor of California, and President of the United States; and

Whereas, Ronald Reagan served with honor and distinction for two terms as the 40th President of the United States of America, the second of which he earned the confidence of 60% of the electorate and was victorious in 49 of the 50 states in the general election - a record unsurpassed in the history of American presidential elections; and

Whereas, in 1981, when Ronald Reagan was inaugurated President, he inherited a disillusioned nation shackled by rampant inflation and high unemployment; and

Whereas, during Mr. Reagan’s presidency, he worked in a bipartisan manner to enact his bold agenda of restoring accountability and common sense to government which led to an unprecedented economic expansion and opportunity for millions of Americans; and

Whereas, Mr. Reagan’s commitment to an active social policy agenda for the nation’s children helped lower crime and drug use in our neighborhoods; and

Whereas, President Reagan’s commitment to our armed forces contributed to the restoration of pride in America, her values and those cherished by the free world, and prepared America’s Armed Forces to meet 21st Century challenges; and

Whereas, President Reagan’s vision of “peace through strength” led to the end of the Cold War and the ultimate demise of the Soviet Union, guaranteeing basic human rights for millions of people; and

Whereas, February 6, 2017, will be the 106th anniversary of Ronald Reagan’s birth, and the twelfth since his passing:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-ninth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby declare February 6th of each year to be “Ronald Reagan Day” in Missouri and urge all citizens of Missouri to recognize this event and participate fittingly in its observance; and

Be It Further Resolved that this resolution be sent to the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTEENTH DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2017

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Parson in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“For this reason I bow my knees before You the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth takes its name.” (Ephesians 3:14)

Gracious God You have shown Your love of us in many ways and with a passion of a mother’s love for her children. And as we leave today and return to those whom You have given us, fill our hearts with love of You and for our families that make all our deeds and words resound with that love. We ask You to enrich our time with those at home and make such time precious in Your sight. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.
